

COMPANY OVERVIEW

RightMealz began as a dream in a small home kitchen over a decade ago—fueled by the belief that chasing purpose was worth every risk. What started with just a few home-cooked meals turned into a relentless drive to turn struggle into strength. That passion became fuel, and that fuel became RightMealz.

Today, RightMealz is a performance-driven meal prep and wellness company based in Long Beach, California. We specialize in chef-crafted, nutritionist-approved meals designed to support athletic performance, busy professionals, and health-conscious individuals. Over the years, we've evolved into more than just a meal prep service—we are now a full-service, health-conscious dine-in restaurant offering fresh, clean meals in a welcoming space built for our community.

From weekly meal prep and grab-and-go options to large-scale catering for professional sports teams, corporate wellness programs, and events, RightMealz delivers nutrition with intention.
